Message from COL Terrio, dated 10/20@1251

- All,
- IT HAS BEEN BROUGHT TO MY ATTENTION THAT The AHLTA UPDATE has caused problems with lab results crossing over from CHCS 1. The issue pertains directly to high, low, and critical values. The results are correct. however, AHLTA is placing two question marks (??) next to the results instead of an “H” for high or “L” for low. A work order has been placed and I will keep you informed with updates. My recommendation, at this time, is providers use CHCS 1 (Legacy) to review laboratory data. .
